Party city near las vegas strip

Las Vegas may be a great divider of opinions, but if there's one thing we can all agree on, it's that there's nowhere else quite like it. An oasis of excitement in the vast Nevada desert, Las Vegas competes with the world's capitals for the sheer value of entertainment per square mile. Where else could he catch a show from Celine Dion, admire Penn and Teller, have lunch at Gordon Ramsey's table, and still have time for roulette? With a sparkling centre serving everyone from young families to parties looking for s bachelor parties, and with its proximity to the awe-inspiring Grand Canyon, it must be experienced to be believed. Where to stay at Las VegasChoosing base for your Vegas stay usually amounts to plumping for one of two options: staying on the Strip, the famous main drag, or just off it. A trip to Sin City will always set you back a few quid, so if you don't mind where you lay your head, or if OTT luxury just isn't your bag, we've found a sweet boutique motel that's probably the cheapest hotel you'll find in New York - El Cortez Hotel & Casino offers a modest but characterful place to call home as you discover everything Vegas has to offer. Those looking for a respite from rowing should look for something that, by Las Vegas standards, is a little more secluded. Located in its own lush gardens, the luxurious Wynn Hotel is relatively separate from other resorts at the northern end of the Strip, resulting in spectacular views of the desert and mountains, or try the Four Seasons for a beautifully decorated spa hotel with a relaxed vibe. If you're looking to get into the center of the action, in a ridiculously easy reach attraction, shows and shopping, a mid-Strip hotel like a trendy, adult-oriented Cosmopolitan or the huge and totally kitted-out MGM Grand will get you there. Can you have both? Of course, the Mandarin Oriental and Skylofts at MGM Grand both occupy the main properties at the centre of it all, but the executive touches and calm interiors mean they still manage to feel calm at the end of a busy day. The 10 best hotels in Las VegasImage 1 of 5Image 2 of 5Image 3 of 5Image 4 of 5Image 5 of the 5A luxury hotel with stunning views of the stripLocated centrally on the strip, the Waldorf Astoria is luxurious and has some of the best views of Sin City and beyond. Many rooms have floor-to-ceiling views even in the bathroom, so you can relax and soak while enjoying epic views of the Nevada desert and the dazzling lights of the Las Vegas Strip. This hotel is a fantastic place to relax after a busy day in the heat, and rooftop Skybar offers a chilled place to drink before dinner before you head for carnage on the strip. And if you hit it a little too hard in a casino bar, the next day you can sweat all those toxins in a fantastic 27,000-square-foot spa with numerous treatments available and then chill out in a very private cabana by the pool, located on the eighth floor where the views are still as spectacular as ever. Figure 1 of 5Image 2 of 5Image 3 of 5Image 4 of 5Image 5 of 5Full character, just off the strip, and cheaply pricedSlightly different from the luxury of a hotel on the main strip, El Cortez Hotel & Casino is a great choice for those who want to stay a little off the main strip. Solo travelers, or anyone who wants to do Vegas on a budget, will be pleasantly surprised by this hotel, offering rooms starting at just £48 a night. The hotel has an old-fashioned accommodation with boutique rooms that are the perfect place to rest. While this hotel would be ideal for anyone there to see the other side of Vegas, it still has its own casino if you want a cheeky go to the roulette table, and a bar serving a selection of wines and crafted cocktails. While some of the older rooms are certainly a little outdated, El Cortez Hotel & Casino is full of character and the staff are said to be incredibly kind and willing to help with any aspect of your trip to Las Vegas. Image 1 of 3Image 2 of 3Image 3 of the 3Seductively exclusive and incredibly elegant Taking advantage of mgm grand's vast exquisitesive central location, Skylofts nevertheless feels a world away from the raucous casinos and bright lights of the Strip, making it a luxurious, private oasis that is without a single one for couples looking to pull out all the stops. Skylofts has its own reception, private cardio room and individual butler service, and offers beautiful, spacious bathrooms equipped with a rain shower and hot tub, private reception, private cardio room and individual butler service, although if you choose to join the outside world, guests can also step into mgm fitness center, spa and lounge on the 29th floor. Add a little touch to stay like check-in and transfers at Rolls-Royce Airport, and you have everything that makes for a thoroughly romantic luxury weekend. Figure 1 of 3Image 2 of 3Image 3 of the 3A family oasis with attractions to spareFinding fun in Las Vegas will never be a particularly tall order, but keeping the whole family happy is especially painless in the Mirage. From the exploding volcano in front of the lush Secret Garden, the enchanting tropical aquarium and the immaculate, vast pool to the spectacular Cirque du Soleil love show of all ages, there are tons that keep them occupied. And, instead of relying on s bachelor party like many of its stripside mega-resort contestants, it focuses on comfortable, stylish and spacious accommodation with high-tech touches that children will love. For adults, there is shopping, a large selection of dining options, drinks and dancing, and of course, a casino. Figure 1 of 4Image 2 of 4Image 3 of 4Image 4 of 4Romance and relaxation wrapped in a little slice of Italy just off the Vegas strip Venetian allows you to step off the fast-paced Vegas strip and almost into the other world. This hotel offers relaxation romance in luxury suites with large pedelos, marble counters and boutique lounges. Venice has a whopping 10 outdoor pools, including an adult-only TAO beach club - the perfect place to cool off after a long night of partying. This hotel also has its own casino and various restaurants and shops. It's really like a mini vacation in Italy when you stay in Venice. With luxurious rooms, free access to the spa and even its own golf course, this hotel is truly a place to escape the chaos and enjoy luxury pampering while traveling to Vegas. Figure 1 of 4Image 2 of 4Image 3 of 4Image 4 of 4Trade rhinestones for marble on the state-of-the-art CosmopolitanIf Vegas kitsch isn't really your speed (you can have too much of a good thing, after all) you can eschew the usual neon and gilt in favor of ultra-modern Cosmopolitan. This trendy place in the very center of the Strip may be marked by its design flair, but it has content that can bring it back. Spacious, contemporary and comfortable rooms are checked via iPad in the high-tech lobby; there are 13 dining options, including a premium sushi bar; and there are plenty of opportunities to relax, including a pool overlooking the Strip. Realistically, Cosmopolitan isn't even close to a child-friendly option (see The Mirage instead), but for those looking for more adult businesses it's sure to be a plus. Figure 1 of 5Image 2 of 5Image 3 of 5Image 4 of 5Image 5 of the 5Five-star style and service makes a winning combinationSeable only from spotting the elegant copper swoosha of Wynn's building rising from the beautifully landscaped gardens at the north end of the Strip that this is something special, and the interior does not let it down either. Public areas are immaculately groomed, with impeccably helpful and friendly staff, while plush rooms — even the entry level is an impressive cut above rooms elsewhere on the Strip for comfort and thoughtful design — benefit from floor-to-ceiling windows and cloud-like beds. The range and quality of facilities is also excellent: a luxury spa, the only 18-hole golf course on the Strip, only swimming pools for children and adults, a large nightclub on site, musicians and performances are sure to entertain everyone. Figure 1 of 3Image 2 of 3Image 3 of 3A's slightly relaxed luxury just off the Strip If you need a little break from the action of Vegas's main drag, make your getaway to the Four Seasons Hotel. The holy trinity of style, service and amenities of a luxury hotel chain works great well if you're looking for a more relaxed holiday in Las Vegas - take advantage of the stillness without a casino in one of the 400 quiet, contemporary and ultra-comfortable rooms or with eco-friendly treatment in a quiet five-star spa, confident that everyone is being cared for by extremely friendly and attentive staff. The range of dining options is not huge, but with a friendly Veranda open from early breakfast to Dinner, plus a great Charlie Palmer steak, you will surely find plenty of reasons to stay if you simply can't face another night out on the Strip.Image 1 of 4Image 2 of 4Image 3 of 4Image 4 of the 4Play-hard partiers will have no problem finding their excitement at this titanic hotel MGM Grand Hotel and Casino occupies major properties right on the infamous Strip, which means that bachelors and bachelorettes can always be where the store is. But the best part about staying in this huge party hotel is that all you need is already under one roof, which makes painless planning for the best man - not to mention the easier way back to the apartment comes sunrise. At the resort, deer and chickens can enjoy not only Vegas' biggest casino, but one of the wildest wet republic pool scenes in the city, featuring live swimsuit and DJ competitions. Figure 1 of 4Image 2 of 4Image 3 of 4Image 4 of 4This elegant place makes a great base for fans of fusion cuisineS variety that is the name of the game in many Vegas mega-resorts, might seem strange in the foreground of the foodie offerings of the much smaller Mandarin Oriental. However, the hotel chain's emphasis on understobtrusive elegance and eye for touch stays extends to its restaurants, and there is a definite approach to quality and oversupply. Of course, the central location of the Strip hotel also means that you are never more than a stone's throw from the world of gastronomic options. Twist, led by triple-Michelin-starred impresario fusion cuisine and chef Pierre Gagnaire, was named the best restaurant in Las Vegas of 2017. Can't you get used to those vistas? Take your digestif at the Mandarin Bar for even more skyline-spotting. Looking for more travel inspiration? Check out our connected travel features:
